

PRAYER AT THE SENDING OUT OF THE EUCHARISTIC MINISTERS TO THE SICK AND HOUSEBOUND

Priest: Almighty and loving Father, as we have received your Son in this Holy Eucharist, we ask you to hear our prayer for our brothers and sisters:

All: Give your healing, Lord, to those who are sick and housebound. May those who take the Body of Christ to them also be a loving sign of our prayers and thoughts. Keep us united with them in all their sufferings so that we will grow together as one community with the presence of Christ among us.

Lord, teach me to be generous.
Teach me to serve you as you deserve;
to give and not to count the cost,
to fight and not to heed the wounds,
to toil and not to seek for rest,
to labor and not to ask for reward,
save that of knowing that I do your will.

The Franciscan Missionaries of Mary was founded by Blessed Mary of the Passion, a woman of great vision and missionary zeal. She was born in France in 1839 into a landed gentry family, the youngest of five children and baptised Helene de Chappotin. She entered the Poor Clare Monastery at the age of 21. It was here that she encountered the spirit of St Francis of Assisi, an encounter that would mark her deeply. Unfortunately her poor health made it impossible for her to continue in the austere life of the Poor Clares. When she recovered, her family opposed her vocation and Helene had to wait a couple of years before she could pursue her dream once more of consecrating her entire life to God.

In 1864, guided by her spiritual director, Helene entered the newly founded society of the Marie Reparatrix where she was given the name Mary of the Passion. While still a novice she was sent to India as a missionary. Within two years she was asked to assume responsibility for the mission. She had not reached her 28th birthday! Gifted with a quick intelligence, initiative and organizing ability she took the inherent challenges in her stride. Her intense missionary activity developed over a period of ten years. External and internal events, compounded by the slow means of communication between herself and her superiors in Europe led inevitably to difficulties. Mary of the Passion trusted in God and through much struggle and suffering followed her conscience and left her religious community. Nineteen other sisters followed her. Led by God, she set out for Rome with three of her companions. She met with Pope Pius IX who, on 6th January 1877 approved the foundation of a new institute – the Missionaries of Mary, the first missionary community of women founded by a woman. In 1882, with the encouragement of Pope Leo XIII, the Missionaries of Mary were affiliated to the Franciscan Order and became known as the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary. Despite the many difficulties and challenges of the beginnings, the new Institute grew rapidly throughout Europe, Asia, Africa and America. From the beginning, Mary of the Passion insisted that the aim of the Institute was universal. Sisters from different cultures were sent together on mission. They lived in international communities as an important expression of their commitment to universal mission. When Mary of the Passion died on 15th November 1904, there were 2000 sisters working in various fields in almost every continent. She was beatified by Pope John Paul II on 20th October 2002. As of 2011, the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary formed the fifth largest religious institute for women in the Catholic Church, with 6,698 members

One liners from Edinburgh Festival "I was walking the streets of Glasgow the other week and I saw this sign: "This door is alarmed." I said to myself: "How do you think I feel?" "A spa hotel? It's like a normal hotel, only in reception there's a picture of a pebble". I needed a password eight characters long so I picked Snow White and the Seven Dwarves." Drive-Thru McDonalds was more expensive than I thought... once you've hired the car..
